Venice Architecture Short Film Festival

September 4, 2020

Venice celebrates architecture, even without the Biennale, postponed to 2021 due to the Coronavirus. Until 5 September the film festival Venice Architecture Short Film Festival analyzes the social and emotional impact of contemporary buildings on society with a series of short films.

Theme of the first edition: living together again, a reflection on living in an increasingly precarious world. Opening photo: Koolhaas House Life, Bêka & Lemoine

The Infinite Happiness, Bêka & Lemoine

The Festival, in conjunction with the 77th Venice International Film Festival, ends with the start of the Venice Glass Week on 5 September, and is organized by the ArchiTuned Cultural Association under the patronage of the Municipality of Venice in various locations such as I Giardini della Marinaressa, the Cloister of San Francesco della Vigna, the Venice Pavilion at i Gardens of the Biennale.

The evenings of free screenings are curated by the duo Beka & Lemoine. In program also: Koolhaas HouseLife, Barbicania e The Infinite Happiness.
